ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT OF BOYS' BRIGADE.

Organization Will Have Outing at Carolina Beach in July.

The annual encampment of the Boys' Brigade will be held this year at Carolina Beach and the date for this event has been set for July 17 to 25, inclusive, this having been decided upon at a recent meeting of the organization. The outings have been a feature for several years and were always conducted at Southport until last year when the place was changed to Carolina Beach. The results were so satisfactory that it was decided to hold the encampment there again this year.

There were two divisions of the encampment last year, but the entire corps will go together this year. Col. Walker Taylor, who has always taken so much interest in these outings, will be with the boys and this assures the success of the event. Last year Messrs. J. J. Loughlin and A. W. Pate, owners of Carolina Beach, and the Messrs. Kure extended every courtesy to the boys to make their stay both pleasant and profitable. It was their thoughtfulness and attention which helped so much to make it such a splendid success. There are many natural features at this beach which serve to make it an ideal place for an encampment of this kind.

THEATRICAL

Here It is Again, and Wilmington Theatre-goers will hail it with super- lative delight and therefore crowd their favorite amusement spot, the Grand, when the immense and impor- tant offering, "A Woman's Triumph," was made, and theatre-goers all agree that it was the most pretentious thing yet done in the way of "movies" in Wilmington.

Today will be a repeater for great- ness, though the price will be back to 5 cents admission, at any perform- ance, and the great feature alluded to in the offer of this notice is nothing less than the second of the wonderful "Man Who Disappeared" series. This one is entitled "The Hunted Animal," and takes up the thread of the story of "John Patton" (played by the popular actor, Marc MacDermott) is chased by "Detective McWade" (played by the noted actor, Duncan Mac- Rae) escapes in a rowboat. The chase is an exciting one. The detec- tive breaks the oar with a pistol shot, but the convict escapes to the river bank, where a struggle ensues between the two. Again he escapes by his hands are smashed by a train, is furnished with clothes and concealed in a trunk by a Chinaman.

The Vitagraph's latest two-part special, "The Spirit and the Clay," a really remarkable dramatic story, will be one of the stars.

The Sells Company will offer one of the most interesting dramas ever produced entitled "The Second Wife."

"Perils of Pauline" at Bijou.

Today the popular photoplay house offers to its patrons the fifth episode of that great $25,000 Eclectic Photo-play played by the great Pathe players under special lease, "The Perils of Pauline," featuring Mr. Crane Wilbur and Miss Pearl White in the leading roles.

This great serial has taken the country by storm, and it's growing more intense in interest every week. In this, the fifth chapter, many and striking are the incidents by which the villain is trying to get into possession of Pauline's fortune. This picture has made the biggest hit of any picture ever shown at the Bijou, and this week's installment furnishes some stirring portrayals of the thrilling perils through which the little girl passes, and the resourceful way in which she meets her fate.

A big Nestor drama, "The Passing of the West," will come next on today's bill, and promises to create much attention. It shows Mr. Wallace Reid and Miss Dorothy Davenport in one of their greatest achievements, and is a story that will tell to everyone, the portrayal of how a brutal beast of a man was redeemed by a tragic incident. It has to do with outlaws, the maddest police and other interesting characters which go to make up one of the most interesting stories of the day.

A Rex drama, "Avenged," comes next, and features Miss Lois Webber and Mr. Philip Smalley in the leading roles, and is a tale of smugglers and one of the prettiest love stories entwined in the theme.

A big Universal like comedy, "Universal Ike, Jr. and His Mother-in-Law," will come last on today's big menu, and promises to take like wildfire. It is a story that each one of these Universal like screams get better, and this one will convulse the whole theatre.

SPARTANBURG LAWYER IS BADLY BEATEN UP.

Reaches Hospital in Early Morning in Dazed Condition—Statement.

Spartanburg, S. C., June 10.—With a deep gash in his forehead, Cecil C. Wyche, a young attorney, floor leader for Governor Cole Blaise's supporters in the House of Representatives, appeared in a dazed condition at a hospital here early this morning. When his wound had been dressed he desired to leave, but he was told that the physicians prevailed on him to remain in the hospital for a few days.

Mr. Wyche said he had been struck by a man armed with brass "knucks." He admitted that he knew the man but declined to give his name or tell where or when the assault had been committed. Throughout the day he persistently refused to answer any questions, but tonight he made the following statement:

"The affair last night was nothing more or less than a plain ordinary fight which was caused by a newspaper office here Tuesday and made threats, it is alleged, against an unidentified person who had given the newspaper a letter from Mr. Wyche disclosing plans for a secret meeting of Governor Blaise's lieutenants. This was recalled in connection with the assault upon him last night.

Atlanta, Ga., June 10.—The heat wave which has gripped the South for several days, continued today. Columbus, Ga., reported the highest temperature, the mercury there rising to 100 degrees. Bristol, Va., had a temperature of 99 degrees and Lynchburg, Va., recorded a maximum of 98.5. The latter was a new record for Lynchburg. The temperature here reached 93 degrees, three lower than yesterday.

The weather forecast tonight for Southern States tomorrow indicated that heat conditions might be somewhat relieved by local thunder showers. Unsettled conditions with probably local rains was indicated for Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Eastern Texas. Fair and continued warm weather was forecast for Tennessee, Kentucky and Oklahoma.

Wilson, N. C., June 7.—According to the auditor's report the municipal light and power plant earned $9,687.88 over all running expenses during the past year. The plant has 744 customers as against 281 in 1907. In addition the town has free light for the streets. The town commissioners after receiving the report increased the salary of the superintendent to $2,400 per year.

Baseball Has A Moral Influence.

IS OPINION OF KILLIFER'S LAW- YER BEFORE FEDERAL CIRCUIT COURT.

Cincinnati, June 10.—"There is hardly a boy or man in this whole country who does not follow the great National game of baseball with as much eagerness as he waits for his breakfast. The influence it wields is tremendous. For this reason fair play should characterize the methods used in conducting the game. If we permit one team to seize upon players of another without regard to moral or legal obligation we will undermine its whole structure and the game will lose its hold on the public."

This was the sentiment expressed by Attorney George W. Pepper, of Philadelphia, representing William M. Killifer, catcher with the Philadelphia Nationals, when he stood today before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals and opposed the plea for an injunction to prevent Killifer from playing with the Philadelphia club, made by the owners of the Chicago Federal League club.

GASOLINE TUG ASHORE.

Struck Five Miles Off Little River, S. C.—Here for Help.

A phone message yesterday to Mr. R. R. Stone, of the Stone Company, from Little River, S. C., stated that on Tuesday night a large 60-foot gasoline tug, bound from Miami, Fla., to New York, and owned by one of the large dredging companies there, had gone hard and fast ashore about five miles south of Little River bar. The captain and crew were able to get ashore easily on low water and arriving at Little River, the captain immediately telephoned to Wilmington for the assistance of a tug.

Mr. Stone expected the Blanche in last night and had telephoned to Capt. L. D. Potter at Southport with a view of getting assistance to the gasoline boat, which draws 5 1/2 feet of water. The captain of the gasoline tug left Little River yesterday afternoon in an automobile for a cross-country trip and expected to reach the city last night to complete arrangements for assistance to go to his boat first thing this morning.

SIXTY-NINE RECEIVE DIPLOMAS AT TRINITY

Honorary Degrees Conferred on Four Ministers.

Senator Overman is Voted the Degree of Doctor of Laws—Dean Briggs Delivers Address—Commencement is Over.

(Special Star Telegram.)
Durham, N. C., June 10.—The degree of bachelor of arts was awarded 69 graduates of Trinity College today, following the commencement address by Dean LeBaron Russell Briggs, of Harvard University. The degree of doctor of arts was conferred on three candidates. The honorary degree of doctor of divinity was conferred on Rev. Plato T. Durham, Michael Bradshaw, J. L. McLary and Gilbert T. Rowe. The board of trustees have voted the degree doctor of laws to Senator Lee S. Overman, and he was to have been here for this commencement, but as he was detained in Washington, conferring this degree was postponed till a later date when he comes to Durham.

The 61st commencement of Trinity College came to a close this afternoon with the lowering of the flag by the senior class at sunset tonight, the last social event of the college year being held in the administration building. This reception was attended by hundreds of people. Every event of commencement has been largely attended.

President Few's Report.
One of the interesting events of commencement week always is the report of the president to the board of trustees. President Few's report this year is of more than ordinary interest to the friends of Trinity College everywhere.

President Few's address at the outset reviews the changes in the faculty during the year and anticipates with pleasure the return during the summer of Prof. Brooks, who, enjoying a year's leave of absence, has been spending the time in Columbia University, New York. President Few notes the extensive improvements to the grounds during the year, noting the enclosure of the athletic field with a brick fence, the addition of other baseball diamonds and the laying of a new cinder path. Granolithic sidewalks have been laid on either side of the new cinder path, and the laying of a new cinder path. Granolithic sidewalks have been laid on either side of the new cinder path.

The work in Biblical literature has been considerably enlarged. Dr. F. N. Parker is being assisted by the dean and by Rev. C. J. Harrell. The department is offering new courses of study in methods, organization and management of Sunday schools to be given by Dr. E. W. Knight. The college is also undertaking extensive work for the benefit of the Sunday schools all over the State. A Sunday school institute is to be held this year, immediately following commencement. Dr. Chas. D. Dula and Dr. E. M. Hamill have been secured to assist in this work. The Sunday School Board of the North Carolina Conference has also offered generous aid in the services of its field secretary, Mr. W. B. Bramham.

A special pamphlet was issued during the spring calling attention to Trinity's facilities for the education of young preachers. The list of books prepared by Bishop Kilgo and Dr. F. N. Parker for young preachers has also been published during the year. It gives President Few pleasure to report that the student activities are on a solid basis and in a more wholesome condition than in a good many years. The success in debating goes on uninterrupted. Five debates have been won from other colleges north and south. Interest in athletics also seems to be more widespread and wholesome. Athletics at Trinity are exceptionally free from excesses and abuses. The system of freshmen advisers has worked well for the benefit of the young students in directing them to the opportunities and away from the perils of their first year in college.

Modifications in requirements for graduation have been made, the president sets forth, and these have made for improvement in all the courses. The alumnae association at present is making an organized effort to build at Trinity a new college for women. Trinity has done an extraordinarily valuable service to the State in the women that it has educated, says Dr. Few, and the permanent fund to build the co-ordinate college, which must in the end succeed, he says, deserves all the encouragement the trustees can give it.

Dr. Few also pleads for a compact organization of the alumni and tells what is being done to this end, notably the preparation of a quarterly which will keep the college in touch with its former students and they in turn with the college.

Trinity Park is reported as having had a fine year, and at the present rate of progress the permanent fund will be recognized as the very best preparatory school in the South Atlantic States. The school is sorely in need of a new brick dormitory. The Summer School at Trinity Park is highly commended to those preparing to enter college and for teachers, preachers and Sunday School workers.

Gifts announced at last commencement amounting to $1,418,061.89 have been applied to the ends for which they were designated, $321,811.77 to material equipment and $1,096,250.12 to the permanent endowment fund. The details appear from the treasurer's report.

Gratitude is expressed to Mr. Benjamin N. Duke and Mr. James B. Duke for their princely gifts to Trinity; to the board of trustees for their splendid co-operation; and to Bishop Kilgo, for his splendid services for the endowment before leaving the presidency of the college.

Dr. King's Commencement Sermon. The commencement sermon was preached yesterday morning at 11 o'clock by President Henry Churchill King, S.T.D., L.L.D., of Oberlin College, Ohio. In spite of the sultry heat, the Craven Memorial Hall was packed with people who came to hear President King's sermon.

The subject of the sermon was "It's All in the Day's Work," and it may be briefly summed up as follows: "Five suggestions it may be said to contain: the true view of life is not the aesthetic view; nor the attitude of selfishness; nor the point of view of medieval chivalry; with its faith in the aristocracy of certain events; nor

TO HEAR THOMAS' APPEAL

Democratic State Executive Committee to Meet in Raleigh June 26. Will Elect Officers.

(Special Star Telegram.)
Newbern, N. C., June 10.—T. D. Warren, chairman of the State Democratic executive committee, today issued a call for a meeting of that body to be held in Raleigh in the Senate chamber of the Capitol on the evening of Friday, June 26th, at 8:30 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to elect a chairman and secretary and to transact other business.

Among the matters of importance to be brought up before the committee at the meeting called today will be the protest of Charles R. Thomas, candidate for Congress from this district, who claims that the rules of the recent preferential primary were not carried out, and that George E. Hood, of Goldsboro, is not entitled to the nomination which he received in Goldsboro when the district convention was held.

POSTMASTER AT MOUNT LIVE HAS RESIGNED.
Mr. Flowers Retires After Thirteen Years' Service.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Mount Olive, N. C., June 10.—Postmaster Wm. J. Flowers, of this place, forwarded to First Assistant Postmaster General Daniel C. Rogers his resignation as postmaster here last night, the same to take effect July 1, 1914. He resigns to assume new duties as chief of police here July 2, 1914, to which post he was elected at a recent meeting of the board of city commissioners, consequently his action in tendering his resignation at this time was no surprise.

Mr. Flowers has been postmaster here for about 13 years, having taken charge of the office in August, 1901, during which time the affairs of the office have been managed by Mr. Flowers and his assistants in a manner most gratifying to the Postoffice Department inspectors, who have from time to time investigated his management of the office, always giving him "excellent."

A like faith in the aristocracy of persons, even in attempted service; but the straightforward taking on, with the same courage, of whatever is involved in the goal one has set for himself. These five suggestions seem to me to be expressed in classic form in five passages of Scriptures, which I have taken from the Bible, and which I have written in my own words: "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be content." "Take thy part in suffering hardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ." "I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; Not to think of myself more highly than I ought to think, but so to think soberly, according as God has dealt to each man a measure of faith." "Forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, I press toward the goal."

In speaking to the members of the graduating class, Dr. King said: "In the spirit of my theme, I must not exaggerate the significance of these commencement days. They, too, are 'all in the day's work.' But it is a part of the truth we have been considering, to remember the immense significance of any day in which a man girds himself for the task. May this day be such a day for you, each one. I have been asking you this to adjust spirit and mood to the coming experiences."

"In the calmness of high and unswerving purpose, and yet in no hard aesthetic or stoic mood, may you be given power to say, with cheerful courage as the years go by, 'I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be content. I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound; in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to abound and to be in want.'"

"Set free, too, from self-pity and the spirit of complaint, put steel into your soul with the old words, 'Take thy part in suffering hardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.'"

Certain also that, in any place, any career, may hold, though deeply disguised, its own glory, say again, 'I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so fight, as not beating the air.' There is no aristocracy of events."

"With earnest desire, moreover, to serve in work worth doing, and with self-respect as one member of the body of Christ, and yet with heart-felt humility in view both of the much that you must receive from the other members of the body and of the divine ideal for yourselves, may God give you grace to do your work, not thinking of yourselves more highly than you ought to think, but so to think as to think soberly, according as God has dealt to each man a measure of faith. Let no mental or moral conquest mar your life or defeat your purpose of good. There can be no aristocracy in service."

"And once more, keep the vision of your goal, and take with equanimity whatever that goal involves. Have the spirit of a good sportsman; don't chase under the rules of the game. Be a good loser and a generous winner. You are in the midst of the adventure of life. Do not resent the risks of that adventure. Be willing to pay the price of high attainment and of an endless self-discipline. For you can choose with satisfaction a selfish happiness. Forget the things that are behind and press toward the goal. You have to solve the paradox of life with him who called you into his glory. 'Whosoever would save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospel's sake shall save it.'"

Trinity Park is reported as having had a fine year, and at the present rate of progress the permanent fund will be recognized as the very best preparatory school in the South Atlantic States. The school is sorely in need of a new brick dormitory. The Summer School at Trinity Park is highly commended to those preparing to enter college and for teachers, preachers and Sunday School workers.

Gifts announced at last commencement amounting to $1,418,061.89 have been applied to the ends for which they were designated, $321,811.77 to material equipment and $1,096,250.12 to the permanent endowment fund. The details appear from the treasurer's report.

Gratitude is expressed to Mr. Benjamin N. Duke and Mr. James B. Duke for their princely gifts to Trinity; to the board of trustees for their splendid co-operation; and to Bishop Kilgo, for his splendid services for the endowment before leaving the presidency of the college.

Dr. King's Commencement Sermon. The commencement sermon was preached yesterday morning at 11 o'clock by President Henry Churchill King, S.T.D., L.L.D., of Oberlin College, Ohio. In spite of the sultry heat, the Craven Memorial Hall was packed with people who came to hear President King's sermon.

The subject of the sermon was "It's All in the Day's Work," and it may be briefly summed up as follows: "Five suggestions it may be said to contain: the true view of life is not the aesthetic view; nor the attitude of selfishness; nor the point of view of medieval chivalry; with its faith in the aristocracy of certain events; nor

Sorrell in behalf of the Durham Pythians. The response to the addresses of welcome was made by J. G. Baird, grand vice chancellor. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Thomas L. The Day of Fake Advertising is Passing

As a matter of self-protection, as well as protection of the public, we are downright glad to see the dawn of honest advertising.

The store that has honest merchandise at right prices need not hesitate to tell the truth. For example, we never had the least difficulty in advertising Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes for men. They contain so much that is superlatively good that the plain truth about them is the simplest kind of a story.

But after all they tell their own story better than cold type can tell it. If you, Mr. Man, are not familiar with that story and the clothes that tell it, don't you wait another day to hear it.

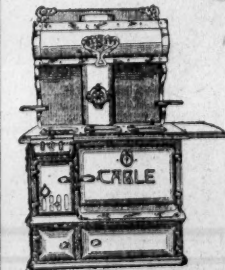

Incidentally, the Spring and Summer showing of Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes is ready. To be found here exclusively.

Many a June bride may become a July cook.

Some men are synics and others are sinics.

A man may frame up an excuse only to be told by his wife that it is all frame.

Good-natured people go wagging along and the ill-natured ones go nagging along.

We are told that Lot's wife turned to a pillar of salt, but the worst part of it was that she turned to "rubber".

A reformer says "more men than ever before are given to lying." Guess he's about right, for the reason, of course, that there are more men than ever before.

As soon as the Democrats get in power and all of them can't get as much of it as any other Democrat, they think an awful lot of mistakes have been made.

A Pennsylvanian boasts that he got the best of a wild cat in a fair, square fight, but sooner or later he may find out that there are other scraps in which the worst is yet to come.

Tillman and Vardaman disagree with President Wilson about the repeal of the tolls exemption clause of the Panama canal act. That should remove all doubt that President Wilson is right.

The question for general debate is, whether the moon is made out of green cheese or whether green cheese is made out of the moon. The affirmative and the negative both have it, from a rag chewing point of view.

Probably Huerta would prefer to bow to the will of the mediators in order to spite General Villa. If anybody gets Huerta's goat he prefers that it be a nice lot of South American gentlemen who haven't called him a "pig".

A lecturer is going around with a new thought dissertation on "How we must treat our neighbors." Nearly everybody in North Carolina already knows how to treat them, but, owing to certain circumstances, the neighbors have to take the will for the deed.

Says the Birmingham Age-Herald:
"A noted fossil hunter has a dinosaur believed to be 3,000,000 years old, although it may be a few thousand years younger." Who cares two cents about an extinct old dinosaur, when a certain class of living discoverers can go off into a jungle and find a maiden as big as the new Harvard stadium?

Col. Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, observes: "A temperance lecturer who says that many a brand of 'stomach bitters' is nothing less than whiskey show that he is no judge of whiskey." A Kentuckian who wanted the real article would hate to send the lecturer after it, for fear he might make a mistake and bring back bitters.

Councilman Jones, of the Department of Public Safety, is everlastingly right in his observations about violations of the speed and traffic ordinances of the city. It is time for calling a halt on some of this reckless driving and operation of motor vehicles both inside and outside the city. The officers might also take a shot at the throwing of glass and other materials in the road and streets.

Candidates for office generally attack the man whose place they want, but few there be who get elected that way. The man who creates the impression that he is big enough for the place stands a better showing than the one whose main hope for success is a campaign of whodunnit to support his allegations that the other fellow is not big enough for the place.
Meanwhile, the voter of average intelligence knows that asserting that a man is not big enough for a place is no proof that the one who makes the assertion is any bigger man than the one he attacks. Voters, like jurors, give the accused the benefit of the doubt.

WHY IS TILLMAN?

The Republican and Progressive opponents of repeal of the tolls exemption clause of the Panama Canal act, passed by a Democratic Congress, are endeavoring to make capital out of it and, as usual, they are being assisted along that line by some Democrats.
One of their assistants is Senator B.
R. Tillman, of South Carolina, who never loses an opportunity to be "different" and whose most notable speeches are of a character to excite surprise or unusual comment. The Washington dispatches in yesterday's Star tell us that on Tuesday Tillman "made an unusual speech" in which he declared that he would support repeal because the recent Democratic State Convention in South Carolina endorsed the President's position on repeal, and for the reason that he felt bound by the action of the organic body of Democracy in his State.

That was his excuse for voting for repeal, while his speech was not in support of the bill but an ill-advised criticism of President Wilson. He went out of his way to criticize President Wilson vigorously for bringing the tolls exemption clause before the country in the face of a campaign, and thereby, as he contended, "endangering the chances of the Democrats in the congressional elections next fall."

Sooner or later we might have expected just such a speech from Senator Tillman. He lays for just such opportunities and never comes to the defense when needed but loads guns for the enemy. He furnishes the thunder and they reserve it for the big noise later on. The South Carolina senator announced that he would vote for repeal only because he felt that his party convention "had freed him from the tolls joker in the Baltimore platform." He was right about its being a "joker," but if he so considered it, he had a poor way of showing it in his speech. On the contrary, it can be noted that he would be for the joker but for the wiser party convention in his State.

Professing to believe that "it is of great importance to the Democratic party to control the House at the next election," he expressed the opinion that the President should have kept quiet until the election was over. "It staggered my common sense," he exclaimed, "and I have not been able to understand just why he projected the fight on the party at this time."

It also staggers the common sense of Democrats to understand why Tillman felt called upon to make such a speech. He saw an opportunity to read the President a lesson on political propriety and only success in demonstrating his own impropriety in furnishing aid and comfort to the opponents of repeal. He will vote with his State convention but his words and his heart are with the other crowd.

The floor of the Senate is not the place for Democrats to call attention to the so-called "mistakes" of the Democratic President, but the mere opinion of a senator does not make it a mistake to do the right thing. If it is right to repeal the tolls clause, the President is not deserving of criticism but deserves support and praise.

Why the Tillman speech? He certainly has not justified his vote for repeal by criticising the President. If he felt that the President had made a political mistake and wanted to help him to get out of it the best he could, the senator would not have considered it necessary to speak one way or the other, much less to make a speech that will do more harm in the congressional elections than courageous repeal of a ship subsidy would.

We rather think it was a fine opportunity for Senator Tillman to be "different" and thereby get before the country by his old route, and if he has ever missed doing it, regardless of the consequences to a Democratic administration, we have never known it.

PROGRESSIVE GOTTEN MILL MEN.

The North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which met in Charlotte on Tuesday, goes the State one better in its purpose to take care of the human asset of North Carolina.
The age limit in the State's compulsory school law is 12 years, but the cotton manufacturers went on record in recommending that 13 years be the age limit. The association does itself credit by the stand which it has taken, and it goes to show that North Carolina has an enlightened and humane class of captains of industry.

The association's annual meeting was attended by the representatives of 56 of North Carolina's cotton mills, and the spindleage of those industrial establishments is 1,018,000. Thus it was the cotton manufacturing interests speaking in force when they adopted the report of their legislative committee, urging legislation for the advancement of the age limit in the compulsory school law.

MONUMENT TO CONFEDERATE WOMEN.

The Horne monument, unveiled at Raleigh yesterday with an elaborate and impressive ceremony, gives North Carolina the distinction of being one of the only two States in which there is such recognition of the heroines of the war days of 1861-1865. It is true that the monument was not the tribute of the State or of the people of North Carolina, but it was the benefaction of that gallant Confederate and loyal Carolinian, the late Col. Ashley Horne, of Johnston county.

The people of the State share in the profound sentiment which moved Colonel Horne to erect a memorial to the North Carolina women who sacrificed so much, who suffered so greatly and who bore with such fortitude and heroism the hardships of the long years of war, privation and bereavement as their share of loyalty to the Southern cause.

Nearly 1,200 Confederate veterans participated in or witnessed the unveiling ceremonies, an account of which is found in the news columns of today's Star. A thousand wartime heroines also were there, and the beautiful and impressive ceremony befitted the occasion, which at this time emphasizes the grandeur of the type of women of North Carolina in the Civil War period. They gave their husbands, fathers, sons and brothers to the cause, but their own trials and sacrifices make the memory of such women worthy of enduring memorial and perpetuation in history.

THE TIDE OF IMMIGRATION.

According to a government report, more immigrants than ever came to America in one year arrived in the United States during the present fiscal year, estimating the arrivals for the remaining part of the year up to June 30th, when the fiscal year ends.
The foreigners arriving here during the year will approximate 1,351,000, sufficient to establish a State of larger population than that of many of the States of the Union. The greatest number of arrivals heretofore was 1-285,349 in 1907.

The United States still looks good to foreigners, and it is evident that they have faith in the abiding prosperity of this country. It might be said that this large influx of immigrants indicates prosperous conditions, but that cannot be said to be the rule, since the next to the largest number of arrivals for one year came in the panic year 1907, when Roosevelt was President.

During the past ten months the actual number of arrivals was 1,038,956, the records showing that in April last the number of foreigners who dropped in on us was 119,885.

The largest number of immigrants coming from any one country was from Italy, which sent over 258,532, of whom 220,125 came from Southern Italy and 38,397 from Northern Italy.
Hebrew immigrants were second in number, there having been 119,639 admitted. Polish immigrants came third with 105,574. Other countries in Europe contributed the remainder in lesser numbers.

With all this influx of foreigners, a new face is rarely seen in the South.
Where do they go? The wonderful capacity of this country to absorb population is more notable from the fact that if it were not for the government record, the South would not know that any such numbers of new comers were arriving in this country.
Evidently the South has not yet discovered a plan by which it can get even a small share of the new arrivals.

Chief of Police Williams at the regular meeting of Council yesterday submitted a splendid exhibit of the activities of his department during the fiscal year ended June 1st. It is safe to say that the police department was never more capably organized than now nor has it done more effective service in recent years. Chief Williams and his force are to be highly complimented for the fine showing made for the fiscal year.

We get this laconic from the Jacksonville Times-Union: "The Bryan primary law worked all right." From those seven short words we are able to make the deduction that the esteemed T-U's choice of candidates are enjoying all sorts of congratulations.

CURRENT COMMENT.

We feel sure the platform adopted by the State Democratic Convention will meet with general approval. The document is progressive but not radical and is of such a character as will appeal, not only to members of the Democratic party, but to many other voters as well.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

"The truth is North Carolina is ahead of Wisconsin and other progressive States, but she has not let the world about it." So wrote Red Buck to The Observer yesterday. An undebatable fact. This paper has so contended and it has suggested that instead of North Carolina copying from some of the so-called "progressive" States in the West, it should invite them to investigate progress in North Carolina. This State has been working out progressive ideas for years past and a study of its position today will show that it occupies a stand decidedly in advance of some of the Western States of which we are continually hearing. People who are prodding North Carolina about slowness and backwardness, are themselves behind the times. North Carolina is in fact one of the most progressive States in the union.—Charlotte Observer.

One reason given for not endorsing a State-wide primary for all officers by the State convention was that the Democrats in the western part of the State declared it would do irreparable injury to the party. This is what they thought about all candidates until they got into it with the congressional matter, when they had to fall back on a primary at last. A legalized primary for all officers from constable up is what is needed and it is what the people are going to have, but it should be so framed as to let the highest man win instead of having to have a majority of all the votes cast. With three or more candidates a second primary becomes necessary and here is where harm is done for in a general primary for all candidates of all parties there is no opportunity of prominous voting. In a second primary it is always Democrats who are running, when Republicans and others wade in and take part. In the first bout, this cannot be done. In Guilford's legalized primary a voter enters the ballot and is asked if he wants a Democrat, a Republican or a Progressive ticket. When he is given his choice of tickets he can vote for any man or all on the ticket, but he cannot erase a name and substitute another. Should a Republican, for instance, ask for a Democratic ticket, he must vote for at least one man on it; he cannot add the name of any one not printed on it. By this rule he is prohibited from "mixing" his ticket.—Greensboro Record.

THE MONDAY STAR.

The Wilmington Star has joined the ranks of the seven-day papers and this completes the list of the leading morning dailies of the State.—Durham Herald.

And now the Wilmington Star has entered the ring, and issues a paper every day of the week. We congratulate our neighbor, and are prepared to guarantee that the people will get seven good, readable, reliable papers every week of the 52 in the year.— Fayetteville Observer.

The Wilmington Star recently closed a post card balloting among its subscribers in Wilmington as to whether they had rather have a six or a seven-day paper. The Star and the seven-dayer won in a walk. On last Monday The Star made its first regular appearance as a seven-day paper and will appear each Monday hereafter. This is a progressive step and The Star falls in line with the other dailies of the State which have inaugurated such a service. The Star never misses an opportunity of stepping to the front for Wilmington and there has been little done in Wilmington affairs that The Star has not had a finger in.—Rocky Mount Telegram.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

White Woman Charged With Keeping Houses of Ill Fame.

After hearing the evidence by the State in the cases against Ethel Coley, Thelma Lewis and Beattie Brooks, white, the Recorder took a recess yesterday until today at 12 o'clock when the hearing will be resumed. They are charged with running bawdy houses and were indicted at the last term of Superior Court by the grand jury.
They were allowed to give bond in the sum of $25 each for their appearance. Myrtle Page, white, was also indicted on the same charge, but failed to appear yesterday.

Romeo Vincenzo, an Italian, thought to have been the man who shot Conductor I. B. Rackley on a trolley car the other night, was tried on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and with carrying concealed weapons.
However, the State was unable to prove that he was the man in the car at the time and he was discharged.
It is thought that the shooting was accidental. Conducted Rackley had a narrow escape, but fortunately escaped serious injury because the bullet struck a sack of money which he was carrying in his hip pocket.
Willie Farrow and Murphy Maultsby, two colored boys, were charged with engaging in an affray. Judgment was suspended on the condition that each pay half of the costs in the case. They were unable to do this and were ordered sent to the county arm for 30 days each. Galvin Hall, colored, was taxed with the costs for disorderly conduct. He was unable to pay the amount and went to the roads for 30 days in default.

Skin Health Comes From the Blood

Even Slight Eruptions Such As Acne Should Be Treated.

Pimples and other skin troubles do not arise from the skin alone. They are impurities. And if let alone or greased with salves they become chronic, simply because the cause is still at work within. It should be attacked with S. S. S. and the impurities in the blood thus rendered harmless.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that the impurities in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote.
This is why S. S. S., the best-known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which stimulates cellular and glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels the poison, the elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.
This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.
Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.
These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 531 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.
You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle today and banish all skin afflictions.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Saved Her Life
and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flushes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicine had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

AWARD CONTRACT FOR HEMENWAY BUILDING

Mr. W. P. Rose, of Goldsboro, Successful Bidder.

Lowest Bid Submitted Was $33,550. Remarkable Closeness in Figures—Work Will Begin at Once—Structure.

The contract for the erection of the new Hemenway school building on the site of the old structure on Fifth street, was awarded to Mr. W. P. Rose, of Goldsboro, yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the County Board of Education. His bid was $33,550, the lowest submitted. There were seven bidders in all and the figures were remarkably close. Work will begin on the new edifice within a few days and it is hoped to have it in readiness for the children when school opens next fall.

The contract for the plumbing was awarded to Capps-Griffith Plumbing Company, of this city, for $2,910, and the contract for heating went to W. R. Dasher & Co., for $2,111, their bids being the lowest submitted. The net cost of the building with fixtures will be $38,577.

The plans for the building were made by Mr. B. H. Stephens, the architect, of this city, who has made a special study of the construction of school buildings. It will be a handsome brick structure with trimmings of Indiana stone and will have 16 large class rooms together with auditorium, principal's office and ball basement. It will be 124x128 feet in dimensions and will front on both Fifth and Sixth streets, as the old building did.

The other bids submitted yesterday were as follows: Rhodes & Underwood, $34,132.34; J. J. Stroud, of Southern Pines, $34,128; R. H. Brady, $34,342; Wallace & Osterman, $34,330; A. D. O'Brien, $38,700; Longest & Tessier, Greensboro, $40,500.

Besides the successful bidder for the plumbing work bids were also submitted by Messrs. H. E. Longley, whose bid was $3,000, and W. R. Dasher & Co., for $3,030. The only other bidder for the heating apparatus was Mr. H. E. Longley, his bid being $2,654.

The new building will be one of the handsomest in the city, as it is in the State and will be a model in every way. The type of architecture will be of a kind that is widely used in the West, though not so extensively in the Eastern and Southern States. The building, fronting on two streets, will have two distinct approaches and has been so planned that it will look as well on one side as the other. In other words, it may be said to have no rear.

There will be a full basement which will be used for the heating plant and for playrooms for the children. These rooms will be a unique feature of the building, giving the students opportunity to get exercise in rainy and cold weather. On the second floor will be the principal's office, class rooms and a room for the teachers. The large auditorium which will seat 100 people will be on the second floor. This will have its entrance from the Sixth street side. The library will also be located on this floor as well as several class rooms.

Each class room will have its own blackboard with all the fixtures necessary for carrying on the school work. The system of heating will be the latest that modern science has been able to devise, the heating being done by the indirect steam heating system. Each radiator will be supplied with a fresh air duct to the outside so that there will be a direct current of air passing through the radiator all the time. Ventilation with warm air is thus assured.

The contract requires the building to be completed in 90 days from the time work is started. The contractor will rush the work with all possible haste and hopes to have it ready for use when school opens in September.

All the members of the board were present yesterday afternoon and the meeting was presided over by the chairman, J. O. Carr, Esq. Following the transaction of the regular routine business, the awarding of the contracts for the Hemenway school building was taken up. While there were several other things that needed attention, there was not sufficient time to take them up yesterday and it is probable that there will be another meeting of the board in the next day or so.

ISRAEL FORFEITS BOND.

Promised Sensation in Justice Harris Court Did Not Happen. The promised sensational trial in Justice Harris' court did not materialize yesterday, as B. Israel, the young man arrested on Saturday on a charge of soliciting orders for whiskey failed to show up and his bond of $250 was declared forfeited. This was the second time that Israel failed to appear, the first time being Monday morning when he was called and jailed. At that time he was under a bond of $200, but his bondsmen in this case will hardly be required to pay the amount as Israel was brought into court a short while after.

After his second arrest Monday morning Israel stayed in jail until Tuesday night when he was released on a bond of $250 which was arranged through a Baltimore surety concern. An attempt will be made to locate him, the bond having been certified by Justice Harris to the Clerk of the Superior Court, who issued a capias. In the meantime seven cases of whiskey, each containing three gallons, are reposing in the office of Justice Harris. They are said to have been shipped to citizens here by the firm that Israel was reputed to have been soliciting orders for. One of the packages was for Israel. He also hid behind a trunk which contained some personal belongings.

First Roasting Ears. The first home grown roasting ears of the season were brought to the city yesterday by Mr. Slon King from his father's farm on Jumping Run. The roasting ears found a ready sale on the local market, and being the first of the season naturally brought fancy prices.

By deed filed for record yesterday D. D. McLaurin and wife transfer to Jno. E. Taylor, for $800 and other considerations, a lot on the east line of Anderson, 33 feet north of Miller street, 33x66 feet in size.

MR. HAYNES ALSO CLOSES

Submits Reply to Dr. Foster's Last Communication—Is Through if Dr. Foster Is.

The reply of Mr. Carlyle B. Haynes to the communication of Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster in yesterday's issue, in the controversy between them, is given below, with the statement from Mr. Haynes that this is his last word on the matter unless Dr. Foster chooses to reopen it. In his communication of yesterday Dr. Foster stated that he would have no more to say on the subject.

Mr. Haynes' communication is as follows: "In your issue of Wednesday, June 10, Dr. Foster closes his side of the controversy between us which he was so unfortunate as to have started. And as it is evident that he cannot support his contentions, and therefore it would be the part of mercy to permit him to quietly withdraw, you may consider this my closing word, unless Dr. Foster is so unwise as to reopen the matter."

"Mr. Foster chooses to close his side of the argument by side-stepping, and makes a quick exit through little side issue of his own creating. I cannot find it in my heart to condemn him for this for if I were on his side of this discussion I would welcome any opportunity to quit, and like him, I would not stand on the order of my going."

"But this hasty disappearance of his from a controversy into which he entered with such éclat and such a flourish of trumpets must be a source of real annoyance to his friends. He opened with a broadside which was estimated to annihilate the enemy; he closes on the run. Evidently he must have had a tremendous change of heart during the past two days. And while I enjoyed him while he lasted, I shall try to bear this parting with fortitude and also with the utmost good will."

My good friend seems to be laboring under a misapprehension as to the character of the issue between us. Permit me to set him straight once more. The issue is not as to my methods of work. It is not my anti-clerical attitude. The issue is raised solely by Dr. Foster challenging the correctness of my statement that the change of the Sabbath was brought about by the Catholic church. This was the subject of his sermon last Sunday night. This was the great burden of the report of that sermon. It is that which occupied three-fourths of the sermon. It is that which takes up more than half of the space in his reply to me in the paper although he says it is not the issue. This has been the issue since there was any issue in this case now, and this, I assure my friend, will continue to be the issue as long as any exists. He cannot get away from it much as he desires to.

Dr. Foster made me a visit Tuesday morning. He has given a partial account of that visit in his reply, but the part which he describes is garbled—very garbled; but inasmuch as he says so himself, I shall not contradict him with reference to this. But I can properly speak of the object of his call.

"He came to discover for the first time what the charges he made in his Sunday night sermon were true. Two days after he had made the charges he came to my home to find out if he had been telling the truth. He said to himself in his reply: 'Just at this point, I thought perhaps I have done the man an injustice.' So I immediately went to see him at his home."

"Think of it, Mr. Editor! Think of the unparalleled situation! He makes his charges with great gusto on Sunday night, and two days later comes to me to find out if they were true! Is it any wonder that he is desperately anxious to get out of this controversy and hide? Surely the time for him to have ascertained the truth of his statements was before they were made. If he had been careful before Sunday night as he was afterwards he might not find himself in the awkward predicament in which he now is."

"As to my anti-clerical campaign I have no apologies to make for it at all. It is a good work. It was entered into with the sole idea of doing a good work. And there was nothing in addition to it gained by myself. I made no effort to secure the attendance at the tent of those with whom I came into contact at that time, and as far as I know not one person has come to the meetings at the tent who became interested in that work. So if, as it appears, Dr. Foster is fearful that I secured an attendance by my anti-clerical work he may calm his fears, for such is not the case."

"I might add in this connection that it is true that some of the members of Dr. Foster's church are coming to the tent, and as they seem to thoroughly enjoy the meetings, coming, as they do even on Sunday nights, it has seemed to some that the real animus of his attack against me might have some relation to this fact. For myself I cannot solve the problem of why he should ever have made the attack."

"Dr. Foster seems to have been hurt by my statement that his attack was a manifestation of the spirit of intolerance, which should have no place in this age. But I must sorrowfully reiterate the statement. The whole attack was intolerant. It violated all of the Baptist principles of religious liberty, it violated all the principles of Christian courtesy, and it also violated the ethics of the Christian pulpit. It never ought to have been made. There was no reason why it should have been made. I had made no attack on Dr. Foster, on his church, or on his religion, nor did I intend to. It was utterly uncalled for and out of place."

"Dr. Foster says, 'Is it not intolerant in Mr. Haynes to go from place to place making his attacks on the Roman church?' Dr. Foster is mistaken again, as he has been all along. By his own statement to me he has not attended any of the meetings which I have held in this city. Therefore, he cannot be speaking from personal knowledge. He has based all that he has said, every charge he has made, the entire attack, and now this assertion, upon hearsay. And the information he has is misinformation. He seems very unfortunate in his selection of informers. I would suggest that he discharge those who have led him into this predicament and secure some who can tell the truth. I have made no attack against the Roman church. The only thing which could even be construed was an address delivered on the prophecy of the eighth chapter of Daniel, and I am sure that even Dr. Foster will not insist that an ex-

FIREMEN'S MEMORIAL DAY

Appropriate Exercises Will be Held Sunday in Memory of Deceased Comrades.

In accordance with a custom established at the 1908 convention of the State Firemen's Association, next Sunday has been designated as Firemen's Memorial day, and will be observed by firemen throughout the State with appropriate exercises in honor of their deceased comrades. The Wilmington firemen will have services, though the program has not yet been fully arranged. Fire Chief Schnibben stated yesterday that it would be announced later in the week.

Following is a letter which was sent out this week to officers and members of the North Carolina Firemen's Association, by the president, Capt. Jas. D. McNeill, of Fayetteville:

"To the Officers and Members of the North Carolina Firemen's Association."

"My Friends and Comrades: At our 1908 convention, held in Wilmington, the State association adopted the second Sunday in June of each year as 'Firemen's Memorial Day.' It also authorized me as your executive official to formulate a ritual for the proper observance of that day in memory of our deceased comrades."

"Therefore, by virtue of such authority, I hereby name and appoint the second Sunday in June of each recurring year as Firemen's Memorial day, and I especially direct and urge upon every fire department in the following ritual in commemoration of our deceased comrades."

"1. The chief will appoint a committee to select some one church for a meeting service, at which time and place the pastor will deliver a sermon to firemen."

"2. The chief will issue an order summoning the active, veteran and honorary members of the department to fire headquarters in time for such service, and will proceed from there to the church in a body. On conclusion of service members will retire to assembly room."

"3. Arriving at assembly room, the department will be called to order and the following exercises will be observed: Reading of the 23rd Psalm by some member of the department. Hymn, 'Abide With Me,' by quartet, or the entire membership. A short address by some fireman, or eulogies of deceased comrades by members present. Hymn, 'Nearer My God to Thee.' On conclusion of hymn an altar or table having been arranged in center of room, upon which is a parchment containing the names of deceased comrades, the chief will call the names of the deceased thereon one by one, the chief answering 'dead,' after which the officers and entire membership, commencing with the chief, and then in regular order of rank and file, one at a time, in silence, shall proceed to the altar and deposit his boutonniere of 'forget-me-nots' upon the parchment, repeating the words 'Peace be with you.' Every member having deposited his boutonniere, the benediction will be pronounced and department dismissed."

"4. Boutonnieres of 'forget-me-nots' to be provided for each member, and to be worn during the entire service, from start to finish, until deposited upon the altar."

"Where departments have a monument or square in front of their place of honor, special grave that they desire to honor, section 3 can be used at cemetery in place of assembly room. 'It being eminently right and proper that we should honor those of our comrades who have passed into the great beyond, I again urge upon you, my comrades, to observe, as near as your local conditions will permit, the above ritualistic services.'"

"Fraternalty yours," "JAS. D. McNEILL, Pres. N. C. S. F. Association."

FUNERAL OF MRS. WARROCK.

Services From First Presbyterian Church Yesterday Morning.

Attended by many sorrowing friends, the funeral of Mrs. George A. Warrock, whose death occurred early Tuesday morning at her residence, No. 307 South Second street, was conducted yesterday morning from the First Presbyterian church, of which she was long a faithful and devoted member. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, assisted by Rev. Dr. H. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church. The remains were borne tenderly to Oakdale cemetery for interment. The grave was covered with a profusion of floral designs.

The pallbearers were: Honorary Messrs. W. B. Cooper and P. Pearl; active, Messrs. T. D. Love, Benjamin Bell, D. L. Gore, James M. Hall, W. C. Craft and William Cummings.

plan of prophecy is an attack. "You have heard the remark, Mr. Editor, of our wise old American sage, Josh Billings, that 'better not to know so much, than to know so many things that ain't so.' I commend it to the study of our mutual friend, the pastor of the First Baptist church. On the next occasion when he feels it necessary to vent his ire on any movement with which he may not be in sympathy let him be sure to confirm his information beforehand, or he may be bitten in the heel again. This is not in high favor even in his own church, and besides, it is taking long chances with torment."

"Now, my friend says that if I do not preach on the Sabbath question he will apologize. His apology will not be called for, for I shall preach on the Sabbath question, indeed I shall. He has left me no room for retreat. But I shall make no attack on the Christian Sabbath, as he so loudly says I will, but rather uphold and defend it. And if he desires first hand information concerning what I mean to say on the subject I hereby invite him to attend the service at the tent next Friday night, for that night I shall preach on the Christian Sabbath, and show what it is, not from my own Martyr or any of the other of the fathers of the Catholic church, whom he relies on for authority, but from the blessed Bible itself. And, permit me to add, if Dr. Foster finds any error in my presentation of the subject I shall be glad to set aside one night next week, the night to be selected by him, for him to reply to my statements. And I can promise the doctor that he will have one of the largest audiences to hear him that night that he has preached to in this city. Will he come?"

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES ROAD THROUGH HILTON

Resolution Adopted Provides For 30-Foot Street

Unexpended Balance to be Deducted From Health Department Appropriation—Other Matters Considered Yesterday.

City Council, in regular weekly session yesterday morning, passed a resolution granting the request of Mr. R. A. Parsley and others for the construction of a 30-foot improved street through Hilton; passed another resolution instructing the treasurer to deduct from the appropriation for the health department the amount of $750.60, the proportion contributed by the city of an unexpended balance of $1000.83 remaining in the bank to the credit of the health department at the end of the past fiscal year; decided to immediately improve Rankin street from 11th to 15th, leading to the colored cemetery; received the annual report of Chief N. J. Williams, of the police department, as given in another column; received a petition asking an increase of 25 cents a day in the pay of the policemen, and considered a number of other matters of less importance.

All members were present save Councilman T. W. Wood, who is out of the city. Mayor Moore presided, and in the absence of City Clerk and Treasurer, Thos. D. Moore, also out of the city, Col. C. H. White, the tax collector, kept a record of the proceedings. City Attorney Bryan was also present.

The resolution authorizing the construction of the improved street through Hilton provides that the city accept a loan of $15,000 from the Hilton Lumber Company with which to construct the street, and to give in return five notes for $3,000, payable one each year until the amount is taken up. The resolution was introduced for its first reading at the meeting last week, and came up for final reading and passage yesterday.

It was passed on a vote of three to one, Councilmen Merritt, Chadwick and Jones voting in favor of it, and Councilman Loughlin against it. Following the passage of the resolution Councilman Chadwick took occasion to express himself as being opposed to any other expenditures during the coming year than those that are absolutely imperative. He pointed out that the budget as passed for this year amounts to a little over $300,000 and that items of outstanding indebtedness amounting to something like $12,000 or $17,000 have to be met. This brought the amount already to be expended dangerously up to the estimated income of the city for the year, something like $325,000, and made it imperative for council to exercise the strictest economy in making further appropriations if the tax rate is to be lowered next year, which, he declared, he was determined to do.

Similar sentiments were expressed by Councilman Loughlin, who declared that it was mainly for such reasons that he had voted against the resolution. He pointed out that the improvement would in a manner benefit a private development and also because of the fact that that part of the city through which the improved road is to pass had already had quite a considerable amount of money spent in improvements.

Mr. R. A. Parsley, who was present, asked that he might make a reply to Mr. Loughlin's statements, lest the matter be misunderstood by the public. He referred to the statement that the improvement was a private development. He pointed out that the portion of the city through which the road will pass was taken into the incorporated limits of the town some 25 years ago against the protests of the owners of the property, and that they had been paying city taxes on it ever since. The Hilton Lumber Company alone, he said, pays about $3,500 city taxes annually, and so many money had been spent on municipal improvements in that section of the city. Therefore, it seemed only fair that the improvement, which was badly needed, be made at once.

The resolution regarding the city's portion of the unexpended balance of the health department for the past year was introduced by Councilman Chadwick, and is as follows:

"Whereas, the charter of the city requires that all unexpended balances of funds made by council for the fiscal year, fall at the close of the fiscal year, be covered back into the general fund of the city, and

"Whereas, there is an unexpended balance of $1000.83 left over from the total amount appropriated for the improvement of the health department, of which $750.60 is the proportion contributed by the city, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that the city treasurer deduct from the amount appropriated for the present fiscal year for the support of the health department the said amount of $750.60, as is required by law, be made at once."

Three members, Councilmen Merritt, Chadwick and Jones voted in favor of the resolution, Councilman Loughlin not voting on the matter. John Whitman, one of the best known colored citizens of Wilmington, appeared before council on behalf of his race to ask that immediate steps be taken to improve the roadway on Rankin street, from 11th to 15th, leading to the colored cemetery; requests for the improvement of which have been made to council for a number of years. Whitman made an eloquent and most respectful plea for the improvement, and all members of council were of the opinion that the request was a worthy one. Councilman Merritt therefore stated that with the approval of the other members the work of making the necessary improvement to the four blocks would begin at once to which the other members unanimously agreed.

Police Ask Increase. Brooke G. Emple, Esq., Recorder-elect, appeared before council on behalf of the members of the police force, presenting a petition asking an increase of 25 cents a day in the salaries paid the men.

He cited the greatly increased cost of living, and pointed out that the men are faithful, intelligent and the playmen of the city, referring to the fine players paid the men.

Then there were "do-as-you-please" corners, and swings, rustic seats, hammocks and the jolly old "see-saw," which carried the guests to the land of ups and downs. The evening was one of great pleasure to all and the Misses Evans, as on former occasions, proved themselves to be charming hostesses.

This delightful party was a happy closing of the house party, given by the Misses Evans. The guests were honored with a number of entertainments during the week. They left for their homes today.

HERRING-PATRICK

The church was decorated with Southern amilax and potted plants and the chancel with hydra-glas. The building was lighted with pink candles on the chancel and altar rail. As the guests assembled, Mrs. E. G. Lee at the organ, and Mr. Harry Stewart with the flute rendered several appropriate selections. Mrs. Boller Stark sang "Beloved, It is Morn" with fine effect. Large advertising signs fare badly at Wrightsville Beach. A sign erected near the car line a few hundred feet north of the Lighthouse, was found lying flat on the ground yesterday morning, having been torn down by some one during the night. Last year two signs which had been erected in the Sound were torn down.

Exhibitions in the new dances will be given by Miss Chandler and Mr. West, at Lumina tonight. In one of their exhibitions they will dance a one-step and in the other a hesitation waltz. The exhibitions of Miss Chandler and Mr. West are very much enjoyed by the spectators at Lumina, as both the dancers are accomplished artists.

A large crowd attended the mid-week dance at Lumina last night. As usual, the music was excellent and the floor in fine condition. Every one present had an enjoyable time. The feature of the evening was the exhibition dancing by Miss Chandler and Mr. West. At their exhibition last night they danced a Maxine and a hesitation waltz, but different from the ones danced at the exhibition on Saturday night. Both numbers by these talented artists were heartily applauded by the spectators.

WEDDING OF INTEREST

AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Miss Elise Emerson, daughter of Mrs. H. M. Emerson, and Mr. Oscar Alexander Hamilton were married at St. John's Episcopal church yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, the officiating minister being the rector, Rev. W. E. Cox. There was a large assemblage of friends present at the happy event.

The wedding was notable for its simplicity, the only decorations used being candles, which with their soft glow made the scene an impressive one. While the vows were being said the bride and groom stood under an old bell which was used at the marriage of the bride's great-grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Parley, and which has been used in all the weddings of the family since.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Julia Post played sweetly a number of selections and for the entrance of the bridal party used Mendelssohn's wedding march. The march from Lohengrin was used for the recessional. The maid of honor was Miss Martine Nelson, of Forest, Va., and the best man was Mr. Charles Venable, of Chapel Hill. The bridesmaids were Misses Maudie and Jane Emerson, twin sisters of the bride; Miss Rutland, Miss Theo. Cantwell and Miss Alice Lettrand, of the groom's party; Messrs. John Boushall, of Raleigh; T. P. Nash, Jr., of Elizabeth City; H. S. Shaw, Wm. M. Parsley and Marion Rahm. The bride's children were little Miss Mary Clark Emerson, niece of the bride, and Master Dick Battle. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Allan Chase Emerson. She was dressed in a simple gown of crepe meteor with Duchess lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of natural orange blossoms. The maid of honor was attired in white crepe and carried a bouquet of yellow gaisies. The bridesmaids were dressed in white crepe with trimmings of shatter lace and girdles of yellow, and carried bouquets of white gaisies.

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception at the home of the bride's mother, No. 115 Red Cross street, for the members of the bridal party and the sisters of the groom. Mrs. G. N. Garrison and Mrs. L. Huggins, of Marshville, N. C., at the home were displayed many beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left on the 6:45 train on their honeymoon, but did not state their destination. They will spend the summer in western North Carolina near Bryson City. Mr. Hamilton being one of the managers of the Cherokee Athletic Camp for young people which will be located there this summer. They will return to this city next fall, when Mr. Hamilton will resume his duties as principal of the Hemenway school, a position which he has held for several years.

Both the bride and groom are well known in the city and throughout the State and have a host of friends.

SPLendid REPORT BY CHIEF. J. WILLIAMS

Covers Work of Police Department for the Past Year.

Submitted to Weekly Meeting of City Council Yesterday—Contains Some Interesting Facts Relative Intemperance.

A comprehensive resume of the work and activities of the Wilmington police department is contained in the annual report of Chief N. J. Williams, for the fiscal year ending June 1st, which was submitted to City Council at the weekly meeting yesterday, and which, in addition to the usual statistics, contains some interesting facts and comment by the chief upon the work of the department.

Chief Williams' comment on the amount of whiskey shipped into Wilmington and consumed here is perhaps a bit startling to those who are not familiar with the number of packages of drinkables that come in on every express train. This would seem to be a very small amount in view of the fact that the department, too, made a fine showing in regard to its work in putting a stop to the numerous burglaries and house breakings so prevalent in the city.

Following the reading of the report, Councilman Chadwick made a short statement commending the work of the police department for the past year. Other members of Council and Mayor P. Q. Moore also spoke in the highest terms of the fine report submitted.

Councilman W. F. Jones, of the department of public safety, stated that he would like to be authorized to issue form summonses to be served on those persons violating the automobile speeding law. This would save the necessity of bringing an offender to the police department every time in order to make the arrest, such procedure sometimes causing embarrassment to ladies in the cars. Warrants could be issued after the summons was served. Councilman Chadwick expressed his approval of the idea, and it will likely be given a trial.

The report of Chief Williams, in detail is as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., June 9, 1914.
To His Honor the Mayor, and Councilmen:
Gentlemen:—I respectfully submit my report for the year ending June 1st, 1914:

Whites	Black

When submitting my annual report for the year ending June 1st, which has been prepared in the form of a tabulated statement, some comment upon the work done during the year will be proper and of interest. While the total number of arrests made are less than that of the preceding year, there has been considerable more arrests made for violations of the prohibition law, the speed law, and traffic ordinances than for the year previous.

As you will observe, there has been a decided falling off in the number of arrests for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, assault with deadly weapon and carrying concealed weapons, which decrease I attribute to the vigilance of the prohibition law, the enforcement of anti-liquor laws and the laws against the crime of vagrancy.

While it has been our purpose to enforce all laws generally, without directing our efforts against any particular crime, the success which has been obtained in the prevention of the crime of house breaking and the apprehension of those committing this crime, has been most remarkable. This crime had become of almost daily occurrence, yet during the past year the department arrested 19 persons for this crime, which is a total greater than the number of houses broken in to during the year, more than one person being implicated in the commission of this crime in some instances.

"As the number of arrests will show, much has been accomplished in the enforcement of speed and traffic laws, yet nothing like satisfactory results have been accomplished along this line. Since preparing my report, the department has secured two motorcycles for covering the territory south and west of Market street, from 5 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, which will greatly assist in regulating traffic, besides giving better patrol service generally in the outlying sections of the city.

"The social evil" situation is about the same as at the time I took charge of the department a year ago, no trouble at all has been accomplished along this line. The enforcement of the prohibition law has been kept well in hand, although large quantities of liquor have been received daily, presumably for personal consumption, as in the case of whiskey has been reduced down to the point where it is only being handled by a few colored people of the 'boot-

COTTON MARKET RECOVERED BEAR ADVANTAGE IN WHEAT GOOD UNDERTONE IN STOCKS

An Early Decline in Yesterday's Trading and Closed Very Steady at a Net Advance.

New York, June 10.—The cotton market recovered an early decline during today's trading and closed very steady at a net advance of 2 to 10 points with buying evidently encouraged by increasing complaints of boll weevil and reports of continued dry weather and high temperatures east of the river.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 6 points and active months sold about 5 to 1 points net lower right after the call in response to easy cables and the official prediction for continued clear weather in the western belt, where farmers are supposed to be rapidly clearing their fields of grass and weeds following the heavy May rains. Offerings, however, were by no means active or aggressive and the market soon turned firmer on the appearance of a few buying orders in the hands of spot house brokers or some of the local bulls.

The detailed weather reports showed very little rain in droughty sections and indicating high temperatures at many points, appeared to restrict selling during the early afternoon and as prices worked higher the demand became a little more active. At any rate the general list worked about 5 to 9 points above last night's closing prices, with new crop deliveries leading the advance and the close was within a point or two of the best. Private reports that boll weevil are numerous in parts of Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi, and apprehensions of damage from that source were expressed in several quarters around the river.

The talk, however, suggested that fear of continued dry weather and high temperatures east of the river was a more important factor in the rally of about 15 points from the low level of the morning on October and December contracts.

Commissioners Purchase Mules and Road Machinery.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Tarboro, N. C., June 9.—That the county commissioners are really ready to start work on the good roads movement in this county for which a large bond issue was voted some time ago, was shown at the last meeting here when arrangements were made to purchase 13 head of mules and some large wheel scoops, this to be added to the other road equipment of the county and put to work on the big dam which will be erected at the site of the big bridge which will be erected to take the place of Bell's bridge in the northeastern section of the county near this city.

The dam and fill will take about six or eight months to complete and while it will be expensive, the commissioners are acting upon the advice of their engineer who says it is the only way the matter can be handled.

INTERESTING SUITS IN EDGECOMBE COURT. Two Verdicts Rendered Against the Coast Line.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Tarboro, N. C., June 9.—A number of unusual cases have been tried at this term of civil court, the most famous of which has just been heard. It relates to a large tract of farm land in this county, which in 1869 was deeded by Little Berry Brown to his two sons, John Brown and Gray Brown, the father to hold a life interest in same. Upon the death of the father there was a reservation in the will that his four daughters should have a life interest in the property.

In 1870 Gray Brown became financially involved in Pitt county and deeded his interest to his brother who is now in possession of the property. The sons of Gray Brown are suing for their father's share and since all of the four daughters are dead the suit promises to be one of the most novel ever heard in the courts of this State.

In the case of Don Manning for being put off a passenger train just outside of Rocky Mount after purchasing a ticket for Battleboro, the jury awarded the plaintiff $525 damages from the Atlantic Coast Line.

Another case against the Coast Line was that of the administrator of Dred Wimberly who was killed by an explosion in the shops at Rocky Mount. Damages for $1,200 were awarded in this case.

Because of a delayed message Miss Violet Meredith was unable to attend the funeral of her mother who died suddenly here and the jury gave her $375 for mental anguish suffered.

It was brought to light today that a school teacher was responsible for the digging open of the two graves at Macclesfield, the discovery of which created a sensation in the section two weeks ago. Just what action will be taken in the matter is problematical.

Average of Stock Exchange Prices Only a Small Fraction From Previous Days

New York, June 10.—At no time today was the average of stock exchange prices removed more than a small fraction from yesterday's close. In its more important phases the speculative position was unchanged and such news as was received produced no effect. Although the undertone was good most of the day, prices ultimately gave way slightly on account of the absence of demand. In the early trading there was a small rise and the afternoon recession did little more than level down the list to yesterday's close, although Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific and a few other shares showed distinct heaviness.
